Sacramento, Placer water $$$ approved

Press-Tribune Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — The U.S. House of Representatives Tuesday approved $1.446 billion for Sacramento and Placer County area water projects, including Dry Creek Basin and Auburn Dam.

Placer buses in jeopardy

Passengers on a Placer Transit Services bus between Roseville and Sierra College on Tuesday were enthusiastic about the service and said county supervisors should not suspend it.

ROSEVILLE — Riding them to a tea last of a Placer County Transit Services bus, George Sobor thinks about what she would do if the buses were discontinued.

Skyrocketing insurance premiums could force Placer County's bus service off the road.

New charge in Loomis slaying

AUBURN — A man accused of murdering police informant Roy Deese Foreman of Loomis last Feb. 27 also has been charged with murdering Foreman "in retaliation" for testimony Foreman gave in a previous criminal case.

Deese and his wife, Joyce, are former gun dealers who last year led a riot to disrupt voters and Placer County for false arrest in connection with the Deese-Deese murder case, and $1.778 in cash for a cashier's check for $100.

Documents said that when Silverbrand was arrested, authorities found business cards and price lists of Silverbrand's, new clips about the Deese murder case, and $1.778 in cash for a cashier's check for $100.

Eureka schools will offer new spelling course

PRIDGEN LAKE — The Forest Elementary School District will offer a new spelling program.

Landfill

It also expressed the hope that the landfill would be used for the McDiago Landfill project.
